

Quotation Marks

Use the following rules when using quotation marks. Use these rules to properly place quotation marks in the sentences below.

RULES

1. Use quotation marks when you are quoting what someone else said or wrote. Use a comma before the quotation mark. At the end of the quoted sentence, keep the punctuation mark inside the end quotation mark. The first letter of the quoted text must be capitalized. If the quote ends with punctuation that's not a comma, there doesn't need to be a comma after it.

Ex: My mom asked, "Would you like to go see the big game this weekend?"

2. Use quotation marks for titles such as poems, songs, and news articles.

Ex: We are going to read "O Captain! My Captain!" by Walt Whitman.
